Cedar Bluff Quarry Sells Rock For Dam

Iowa Contractor begins Work On 5,000-
Carload Operation

A new rock quarrying operation and one of considerable magnitude was inaugurated at Cedar Bluff Quarry Monday morning when E. C. Schroeder, of McGregor, Iowa, began preparations to take out 200,000 cubic yards of rock, to be used for rip-rap stone for the Arkabutla Dam, on Coldwater River, Hernando, Miss.

The order, for which Mr. Schroeder is contractor, will require approximately 5,000 railroad cars to transport and it is expected about 20 cars a day will be loaded. The operation thus will extend over about a year and a half.

The contractor will bring in his own equipment and crew, W. C. Sparks, quarry owner, said Monday, but will also hire some local labor, probably 15 to 20 men.

The rip-rap rock will be taken out as a separate operation from the regular crushed rock business of the Cedar Bluff Quarry, Mr. Sparks said, and will not in any way interfere with the quarry's normal routine.

Street Work Here Will Be Accelerated

Asphalt Surface
Repairs Will Cost $425,
Council Told

Princeton's street building program, inclusive of repairs to be made on asphalt surfaces and laying of concrete in connection with WPA here, will be speeded up in the next few weeks, it was announced at Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Asphalt streets can be repaired satisfactorily with about 125 tons of crushed limestone and 2,500 gallons of oil, the council was advised by Lester Stanley. Entire cost, he said, would total about $425, to provide Main and Washington, needing repair, with efficient surfaces.

Owners of the Brandon Brothers' Cafe, object last week of complaint charging loitering and drunkenness late at night, appeared before the council asking cooperation of the city in maintaining a respectable establishment.

A petition for surfacing a portion of Morgan avenue, between South Seminary and South Jefferson, was accepted by the council and filed.

Jas. E. Darnell Dies In Auto Accident

County Officials To Protest Tax Raise By State

Hearing To Be Heard
At Frankfort April
14 On 5 to 20 Percent Increase

A hearing to determine whether Princeton's 1941 taxes on certain properties will be from 5 to 20 percent higher will be held Monday, April 14, before the State Tax Commission at Frankfort, County Attorney George Eldred said Tuesday.

The State agency notified Caldwell county officials Monday that the tax rate would have to be increased on town lots, 5 percent; land, 5 percent; household and kitchen furniture, 20 percent; motor vehicles, 20 percent; and livestock, 20 percent. The 1941 Caldwell rates are considerably below standard, the commission said, and a blanket raise appears inevitable for the county to attain position to meet necessary yearly expenses, the letter stated.

Mr. Eldred, County Judge Handberry, County Court Clerk Phillip Stevens and County Treasurer William E. Jones will go to Frankfort to protest the increase. Others from Princeton and Caldwell county are expected to accompany the delegation, he said, but no special persons had been named Wednesday.

Health Officer Plans
Physical Tests Of Dairy Workers

With mumps rampant in most surrounding areas, numerous cases have been reported in Caldwell county, about 12 in Princeton, Dr. J. M. Dishman said Wednesday. The disease has not seriously affected school attendance, he said. A threatening measles epidemic has not broken loose, the doctor said.

Dr. Dishman said the health department planned to begin examination of all dairy employees in Caldwell county soon. Health certificates for employees are necessary, he said, in order for dairies to reach or maintain grade A ratings.

An examination of restaurants and food stores, begun late in 1940, is almost completed. The inspection of equipment and sanitary conditions in the establishments is followed by display of cards showing to what class the establishment belongs, the health officer said. All but two Princeton restaurants are Class A, he said.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION IS EXPENSIVE

A value of three-quarters of a cent has been placed upon every minute lost by passenger cars, 1.47 cents for buses and commercial cars, 1.38 cents for taxis, based upon gasoline wastage, wear on brakes and motors and time lost by drivers.

In Princeton, a start was made recently to relieve the badly congested business district of some of its traffic troubles by promulgation of a city ordinance which provided for one-way traffic on two sides of the courthouse square. Many long tolerated abuses still are permitted however which belong to the horse-and-buggy era and which must be eliminated, if Princeton traffic flow is to keep step with the progress manifest here in other ways.

People will, in fact they do here, put up with traffic congestion as long as nothing is endangered but lives, tempers and nerves.

It is to be hoped that now the country is becoming conscious of the cost in terms of cash, something will be done about it.

PLEASANT DIVIDENDS FOR PRINCETONIANS

Roger W. Babson, widely quoted authority, had this to say in a recently published article in the Official Bulletin of the United States Travel Bureau:

"In my latest trek across the country, I was impressed anew with the vitality of hosts of our smaller cities. We are witnessing, I judge, the last days of the era when you could contact a large percentage of the Nation's population by sight-seeing a few big cities."

"The day of the small town is dawning. Here will occur the outstanding developments in later years. Here will be located the true center of the economic stage."

Which is the idea of an American of wide experience about how important towns like Princeton will be in the years which lie immediately ahead.

Recently the Leader expressed the opinion that this whole section would be visited by many thousands of tourists, in the next few years, visitors who will come this way because, first, of curiosity concerning the huge Kentucky Dam development, at Gilbertsville, and later, to enjoy the multiple recreational attractions and advantages which will be afforded by the great inland lake, 186 miles long, such as fishing, boating, swimming, camping and all the other out-of-doors enjoyment provided by the counterpart of the Gilbertsville Dam, already doing a tremendous tourist business... the Norris Dam and its large reservoir.

Roger Babson has seen the vision; and predicts what he and others who have had opportunity to glimpse the future know is sure to come: A great and more abundant share in the life of the Nation for towns such as this.

Forward looking citizens of Princeton are already forming plans to do their part toward making this an attractive place for the coming thousands to linger in; for these nomads of the highway spend dollars along the way.

The tourist business is Big Business in the United States and it is certain to be much bigger in the next few years, because this country is and will be the only safe place in which to travel. It will pay Princetonians pleasant dividends to invest something in the tourist business. Because the tourists are coming this way and the dividends are sure.

ANDREW MELLON'S GIFT

Through the beneficence of the late Andrew W. Mellon, banker, industrialist, former Secretary of the Treasury and philanthropist, the new National Gallery of Art in Washington was presented to the nation March 18, and accepted by President Roosevelt.

Mellon's gift included the magnificent building, which is longer than the Capitol and cost 15 million dollars, and his celebrated collection of paintings and sculptures, valued at 50 million. At the same time S. H. Kress presented his collection of Italian paintings and sculptures, valued at 25 million.

It was also announced that the 50 million dollar collection owned by Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia would be given to the National Gallery eventually, and that other valuable donations were in prospect.

This great collection of art treasures will be open free to the public every day in the year, except Christmas and New Year's Day. The gallery will be open from 10 to 5 week days and from 2 to 5 Sundays.

The Mellon and Kress collections contain a total of 501 paintings and 44 sculptures, but occupy only a small portion of the vast marble building, which has four acres of exhibition space.

In giving this splendid edifice and art collection to the people of the United States, Mr. Mellon stipulated that it should not bear his name, but that it should be known simply as the National Gallery of Art. His name will inevitably be associated with it, however, in the minds of his countrymen for generations to come.

NEW L. S. U. PRESIDENT

After a period of turmoil under the regime of the late Huey Long, culminating in the conviction and sentence to the penitentiary of its president, James Monroe Smith, in 1939, Louisiana State University has made good progress toward rehabilitation under its acting president, Dr. Paul M. Hebert.

A few days ago the University's board of supervisors unanimously offered the permanent presidency to Major General Campbell B. Hodges of the regular Army, who will retire from the military service to accept the post, effective July 1.

General Hodges is a native of Louisiana, 60 years old and a bachelor, who has had a notable career since his graduation from West Point in 1903. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for service in France during the World War, and was military aide to Presidents Hoover and Roosevelt. He has recently commanded the Fifth Army Corps at Camp Beauregard, La. He was once military instructor at L. S. U., and declined the presidency when it was offered to him some 15 years ago.

It is recalled that the first president of the University in 1860 was a military man, William Tecumseh Sherman, who resigned when secession became imminent. Sherman was a West Pointer, who resigned from the army in 1853, but returned to the service at the outbreak of the Civil War, finally succeeding Grant as commanding general of the United States Army when the latter became President.

Yugoslav Army Takes Battle Stations

DOTTED ARROWS INDICATE how Yugoslavia, according to neutral diplomats, moved to organize military forces against possible German attempts to take over the country with forces now in Bulgaria and in the region of Vienna. Black arrow indicates recent German troop movement through Rumania and Bulgaria to the Greek border. This movement has reversed itself south of Sofia and turned toward the Yugoslav border, placing Nazi forces against two possible fronts. British military assistance from the south (striped arrow) has been moved into Greece. Prince Paul of Yugoslavia was reported arrested at Vinkovci, northwest of Belgrade.

PENNYRILE POSTSCRIPTS

By G. M. P.

The all-day bridge players granted a boon to the pestered Pennyriller last week by calling off their meeting... Dassen't say much but bridge does interfere considerably with our office routine, first of each week. And doesn't always send the "boss" home happy either!

Unkind Fate kept this admirer from attending Man O' War's 24th birthday celebration last Saturday, at Fairway Farm, near Lexington... Old Red's anniversary comes two days after mine and I feel sorta sentimental about the old boy... Lexington newsmen declare the greatest race horse of them all draws about 250,000 visitors to see him every year... which helps Lyter Donaldson and cohorts build more and better highways.

Undoubtedly there are others like the Pennyriller who guessed wrong about the Oscars and thought maybe Jimmy Stewart was lucky to get this top movie award recently... But nobody will deny he exemplifies the peak of American patriotism and sets an example for all as he enters military training a buck private, leaving behind him at least a year of his life as King of the Flickers, with all that implies tossed aside without a whimper.

Appointment of Vernon H. Black, Mammoth Cave, to be superintendent of Cumberland Falls State Park, announced last week, is a step in the right direction... Cumberland Falls is Kentucky's greatest natural wonder, next to Mammoth Cave, should become the magnet for many thousands of tourists each year under proper management. Mr. Black becomes the first State Park superintendent in Kentucky.

Henry Aaron and Si Williamson, Hopkinsville businessmen and active members of the Rotary Club there, journeyed to Princeton last Monday night to make up their attendance for the week... The Princeton Rotary Club meets regularly Tuesday night. The visiting Rotarians couldn't come back Tuesday, they said, because of a prior engagement.

Bill Barnes says next time I put her and Ken in this column, I must furnish a secretary to answer her phone... so many friends called to ask about the eye on which her young hopeful made a perfect hit with his air pistol recently.

An original poem, dedicated to the friends who owe for subscriptions and other things, from the Woodford Sun, Versailles, follows:

Dear friends, the wolf
Is at the door;
He howls, and howls,
And then some more;
And yet, you know,
It is quite funny
How quick he'd leave—
If we had money!

Please don't send flowers
When we are dead—
Just send a check,
Right now, instead.
The check will give Us happy hours,
While we could never
Smell the flowers!
Poetically (and trustingly)
The Woodford Sun.

Editor & Publisher, trade publication upon which most newspaper folk depend for much guidance, carries an advertisement in the current issue headed "More Humor and Less Blood." The piece treats of so-called "comics" printed in the newspapers, principally the dailies, and is right down Pennyriller's alley.

For years I have deplored masquerade of the shoot-em-up strips as humorous stuff for juvenile consumption... Editor & Publisher calls these newer cartoons the "murder, mayhem and arson" strips... and is exactly right... I have never read these to Larry, Jackie and David, tho they, as other kids, are avid followers of the funnies.

And now we have so-called "Comic" magazines, amplified and enlarged reproductions of the blood-and-thunder cartoons, which treat the youngsters to all manner of dare-devil and criminal exploits of the impossible and lurid type... to no good purpose, I am certain.

But latterly, reaction has set in. A good many parents have objected to these dime-novels-in-cartoon-form, far worse than the Deadeye Dick, Nick Carter Tip Top Weeklies of the generation to which I belonged as a boy... and the reform of the funnies is on.

Comics should be funny and youngsters, rightly seeking fun, are entitled to it in their newspapers... This paper will print no crime cartoons masking as comics and humorous entertainment for the boys and girls... And, if enough parents object, neither will the big dailies.

The Literary Guidepost

By John Selby

"The Hero in America," by Dixon Wecter; (Scribners: $3.50).

Perhaps by chance, Dixon Wecter's remarkable "The Hero in America" comes at exactly the time it is needed. This is an honest study of the hero in America, and not a collection of smart cracks; it seriously considers the growth, nourishing and usefulness of our national heroes, and does not try to tickle the malice of its reader. For heroes do grow—or wane. They must be nourished. And they can have use.

Today, Mr. Wecter concludes, our alleged thinkers are about to decide that our heroes are not jingoist symbols. The thinkers "wonder if something is not to be said for the bitter, but tonic, taste of sacrifice. The prophets of intellectual youth have done some recanting; Walter Millis has concluded that there are roads to war not paved by Morgan dollars, while overseas John Strachey has enlisted in the R.A.F. in the coming struggle for power. Youth is still critical for war hysteria—and indeed would one wish to exchange youth's new sense of realism for the provincial innocence of 1914? But, if sacrifice is needed for democratic liberty, youth will probably die just as certainly as it did from a generation ago. England has demonstrated that fact. And one who dies for his cause in cooler blood is a greater hero than one who dies intoxicated by hysteria."

Mr. Wecter's statement of the qualifications for an American hero are too long for summary here, but his conclusion that our most powerful hero epics center about our leaders, and our supreme leader is "he who can hitch the great bandwagon to the star of American idealism" is not. And it seems to me exactly the truth.

Washington, by a strange conjunction of fact and event and chance, did that, and he sealed his greatness by refusing to

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard and Federal Security Chief Paul V. McNutt have a new worry—the potential shortage in skilled farm labor.

I say "potential," but there are already enough straws in the wind to cause the gentlemen mentioned and their staffs to give serious consideration to the problem.

With the lend-lease bill already a law and money in the process of appropriation to finance it, it seems certain that the United States is not only going to become "the arsenal of democracy" but the bread-basket of a large portion of the embattled world. Farm products already are earmarked for Great Britain, Greece, China and unoccupied France. Spain and possibly some of the occupied countries may have to be fed before long.

So what? So those agricultural sections not burdened with excessive surpluses already are going to have to hoe a row and produce. Secretary Wickard says the gouts most likely to feel the pinch of skilled labor shortage first are the dairy farmers, the poultry raisers and the big truck farmers.

Machine Farmers May Escape

Those who depend largely on machines for their plowing, planting and harvesting probably won't feel the pinch this year anyway. In the first place, these are predominantly the grain farmers and with huge carry-overs from last year's crops and bumper crops in prospect, they will have no trouble making the machines keep ahead of the demand. With these and with the cotton growers, the problem is only one of storage space and disposal of surpluses.

With the growers and raisers of perishables, who depend so heavily on experienced manual labor, the worry is something else again.

Wickard and McNutt already have found the causes of the shortage and have determined that it is likely to get worse. First is the selective service program; second, the great demand for, and the high wages paid, semi-skilled labor in the building and manufacturing trades.

There's not a young farm worker worth his salt who can't handle a saw and hammer and most of them know enough mechanics to take their tractors, cars and farm motors apart and put them together again. As Wickard says, "That's all in any farmer's day's work." So with wages soaring at the construction and industrial centers, it has been almost impossible to keep 'em down on the farm.

No Farm Deferments

While the 1917 draft took full cognizance of the need for farm labor, there was little reason for the present one to do so when many sections were weeping publicly over the excess of workers in the fields. Farm youths have had no greater consideration from the draft boards than city youths. The young farmer of today is a husky, well-educated boy and the farms of today certainly have contributed their share to the trainee army which soon will number 1,500,000 men.

Because of these factors, many farmers are finding themselves up against the same problem that Secretary Wickard had to face recently. His parents were ill on the family's Carroll coun-

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Grady Spiegel, Minister

As we approach the anniversary of our Lord's Resurrection there is need for much cultivation on our part in order to fittingly enter into that rich and exalted fellowship. We need to humbly repent of our sins, reaffirm our allegiance to our Savior and His Church, and let our lights shine for Him in this dark old world. This "right-about face" attitude on our part will be better prepare us for Easter and for every-day living.

In this period of Preparation the First Christian Church offers to her members and to the entire community the following services: Bible school for every age each Sunday at 9:45 a.m.; morning worship next Sunday at 10:55—subject: "Hosanna"; Christian Endeavor at 6:15 p.m. for all children and young people; evening worship at 7:15—subject: "Spiritual Preparation For Service" (and this begins a series of four evening services on the theme of "My Task"—please attend all four); missionary society at the church Monday at 2:30 p.m.; mid-week service Wednesday at 7:15, followed by choir rehearsal at 8:00; and the annual pre-Easter candlelight communion service on Thursday night at 7:15. There is another memorial service held each year at this same time; namely in honor of the members who have answered the death-call since last Easter. This year there are six. These six families are specially invited.

San Francisco (AP)—The "all clear" signal may safely be given on auto travel in Mexico, says the California State Automobile Association. In 1937 an estimated 1,000,000 Americans toured the southern nation via Laredo, Tex., but uncertainties connected with the Mexican presidential campaign, oil expropriation, etc., have diminished such travel since.

Brigadier General William H. Bisbee, the army's oldest retired officer, recently celebrated his 101st birthday by taking his usual daily automobile ride. He retired in 1902, since which time he has lived in Brookline, Mass.

Caldwell 4-H Club News

Three Caldwell county 4-H boys who kept farm accounts on their fathers' farms during 1940 have completed their books. The books were sent March 16 to the Farm Economics Department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station in Lexington, where they will be checked before being sent to Chicago to be entered in the National Farm Accounting contest. Along with the books, a story of each boy's 4-H club work and an analysis of each farm's business were sent to the contest.

Completing this project were Willis K. Crawford, Jimmie Martin and Albert Hartigan, who have kept accounts for 3 years, 3 years and 2 years respectively. Willis K. kept accounts on W. P. Crawford's farm; Jimmie on Ray B. Martin's farm; and Albert on Henry J. Harigan's farm.

Lexington, April 2—Dr. Herman Lee Donovan, 54-year-old native Kentuckian who started teaching school before he entered college, was elected sixth president of the 76-year-old University of Kentucky Tuesday.

Crippled Children Need Drive For Continuation of Assistance

Gov. Keen Johnson and 4-year-old Fern Taylor, daughter of Bert Taylor, Conkling, Ky., open the 1941 Kentucky Society for Crippled Children campaign, April 2, with a joint membership. Fern has been a protegee of the Society and the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission at Lexington's Good Samaritan Hospital for ten months. The Society's goal is 50,000 members to aid Kentucky's 3,824 crippled youngsters on its waiting list.

Gov. Keen Johnson jumped in... his car and traveled a wet, earl... y morning road from Frankfort to...
Lexington the other day to give...
two hours of his time to the...
Kentucky Society for Crippled...
Children's annual Easter mem... bership drive (April 2-13) by... making a recorded conversation...
with a crippled child in the Un... iversity of Kentucky broadcasting...
studio. Later he hob-nobbed...
with handicapped youngsters...
from Lexington's Good Samaritan...
Hospital.

Long interested in the social...
problem presented by Kentucky's...
15,000 indigent crippled children...
Governor Johnson, who headed... the society's 1938 drive as State... chairman, believes that attention...
given crippled children will re... duce the ultimate long-time cost...
of the State in caring for disabled...
adults.

Governor Johnson noted that...
Kentucky's program in this field...
has become nationally outstand... ing due to splendid co-ordination...
of all State and private agencies...

"The Cat and the Canary," a comedy-mystery drama starring Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard, has been scheduled for this special show. In addition a Merrie Melody cartoon in technicolor and a 2-reel comedy will be shown.

Entire receipts from this show will be given to the Greek War Relief Fund and every item of expense in connection with the show is being donated with Paramount Pictures furnishing the feature picture, Warner Brothers the short features, the Capitol Theater its services, and the local newspapers giving publicity. Admission price of 30c for all seats will be charged.

In regard to the show Mr. Simmons made the following statement: "The courageous stand the liberty-loving Greeks have made against the Axis powers has won the admiration of all of us. However they need more than our admiration. They need our financial help to carry on. This special show affords citizens of Princeton opportunity to give this financial aid and, at the same time, enjoy one of the top-notch mystery comedies of the past year.
